NSW CABINET IN ALBURY

The Member for Albury, Greg Aplin MP today announced that a regional Community Cabinet meeting of the NSW Government would be held in Albury on Thursday 30 November.

“I am delighted to welcome the Premier, Deputy Premier and Ministers of the NSW Cabinet to the Albury Electorate on this visit,” said Mr Aplin.

While NSW Ministers regularly come to the Albury electorate, the focus of this visit is on meeting with representatives of community and volunteering organisations, checking in with staff in government agencies, as well as inspecting state projects underway in locations across the electorate.

“It’s going to be a very busy visit for many Ministers,” said Mr Aplin. “Hospitals, roadworks, mental health, education, racing and sports facilities, emergency services ... there is much to see where this government is providing funding at record levels across the electorate of Albury.

“I will be showing the Premier and Cabinet what recent funding is achieving, but also flagging potential future projects and discussing government policies in our context.”
