ENERGY EFFICIENCY MEASURES FOR CULCAIRN PUBLIC SCHOOL TO SLASH POWER BILLS

Member for Albury, Greg Aplin announced today that Culcairn Public School would be funded by the NSW Government for the installation of a rooftop solar system, helping to reduce energy costs.

“This 15kW solar PV system, costing over $17,000, will not only reduce power bills but will also help the environment by reducing energy consumption,” said Mr Aplin.

“The funding is a great investment in our region that will keep on giving well into the future.”

The Small Sites and Heritage Energy Efficiency Scheme provides grants to small and heritage listed government sites across NSW to help them invest in energy efficiency measures.

These measures have included lighting, heating, ventilation and air conditioning upgrades, solar PV installations and domestic hot water upgrades.

It is estimated the total combined energy saved under the scheme will reduce bills by around $163,000 annually for all the sites in NSW.
