TAFE NSW OPENS DOORS TO THE FUTURE

The community is invited to visit their local TAFE NSW facilities during Enrolment Week (15-19 January) to explore the range of study options on offer at TAFE NSW in 2018.

Member for Albury, Greg Aplin said studying at TAFE NSW is the perfect opportunity for people considering their post-school options, a career change or wishing to gain new skills to secure a promotion.

“TAFE NSW offers over 1,200 courses in a range of critical areas in-demand from industry and provides students with the training they need to secure a job,” Mr Aplin said.

“At TAFE NSW, students can study when, where and what they want and are supported by a talented community of career advisors, counsellors and teachers.

“The NSW Government provides significant subsidies for a range of courses at TAFE NSW, ensuring students can undertake the studies they need to find a job without having to graduate with a huge debt.

“I encourage all members of the community to go along to TAFE NSW at the Albury Campus next week to take a look at the exciting vocational education and training options available to them.”

Tuesday 16 January is the best day to attend the Albury Campus as it will be the major Open Day for the week, with staff on hand to answer inquiries from 10am to 7pm.
